About Dismas House & Our Clients

America's first reentry program for individuals completing their federal prison sentence has evolved over 60-plus years, and now assists more than 500 clients each year, achieving a success rate of 70 percent.

Nearly every one of these individuals asks only for a second chance. Most will return to the neighborhood they know, so they will be our neighbors.

Assisting Each Person Regain the Sparkle

We do everything we can to make that second chance successful, including help in polishing their personal habits, in transitioning and adjusting to their reentry to the community.

The strengths and successes of Dismas House programs are documented by the positive reports of quarterly and annual reviews by the Federal Bureau of Prisons. We contract with the Federal Bureau of Prisons and compete for the contract every five years.

Our individual work with clients is a dynamic process involving all aspects of their lives. Each client has a personalized program of assistance and support; each is monitored by staff 24/7.

Dismas House knows and believes that each client deserves a second chance. We know we can, and must, help each person change to once again become a good spouse, a good parent and a good citizen.

Working with employers and family members, we help clients put the gleam back in their eyes.
